Hi Greg,

Here is the email that I had sent you when this issue came up last year. I hope this will help you again with this issue. Both alternators are now obsolete with Nissan. I sold you the last two PN 22100-0U010's we had in stock back in 2013. Which was the 4-pin. I do have some of the 22100-AP000's in my take-off inventory.

THANK YOU,

My hours of operation at ZPP are Monday-Thursday 7:30am to 5:00pm and Friday's 8:00am to 12:00noon

Becky,

Just left you a voice message and didn't realize I had your email.

Can you help me out with the below issue?

Thanks in advance,

Greg

Hi Greg,

Yes it has been a long time, hope everything is going your way. I think this is a question for our sister company Zenith Power Products. They handle all the engine parts for the Nissan and should be able to answer this. Their phone number is 276-645-8679, ask for Becky.

Mike,
Long time man.

Say, I have a customer we shipped an alternator to and he say it's wrong. I think I remember going through this once before.

Our number is: 3336139 and matches with a vendor number of yours of: 23100-AP00A and it has a 2-pin plug on it.

The one he's trying to replace has a vendor number on it of: 23100-0U060 and has a 4-pin plug on it.

Can he modify it?

Is there another Alt we need to get?

Any options?

It's a 1999 Nissan CG13 with a SN of: 335732

Let us know what you can.

Thanks,

Greg
